Provided that the term of office of such members may be extended for a further period not exceeding two years.

Amendment of section 6.

5. In section 6 of the principal Act, for the words “the Department of Development of North-Eastern Region”, the words “Development of North-Eastern Region” shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The North-Eastern Council (NEC) was set up in 1972 by the North-Eastern Council Act, 1971 for securing balanced and coordinated development and effecting coordination among States of the north-eastern area viz. Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland and Tripura. The Governors and Chief Ministers of constituent States are members of the Council.

2. The North-Eastern Council (Amendment) Act, 2002, inter alia, added Sikkim as the eighth member-State of the Council; envisaged functioning of the Council as a regional planning body for the north-eastern area and provisioned for three members and Chairman of the Council to be nominated by the President.

3. The nominated Union Minister, Governors and Chief Ministers of the constituent States are members of the Council as long as they hold the office. Since establishment of NEC, being a statutory body, is of permanent nature, therefore, tenure of nominated members of the Council should be specified in the Act. Therefore, the Bill, inter alia, seeks inclusion of (a) one member of the Planning Commission of India, being in charge of the north-eastern region; (b) two non-official members nominated by the President for three years period extendable for a further period not exceeding two years.

4. Second Administrative Reforms Commission, in its 7th Report on 'Capacity Building for Conflict Resolution,' inter alia, recommended for suitable amendment in the Act of 1971, to restore the original 'conflict resolution provision' requiring the Council to discuss issues of mutual interest of two or more States in the region and to advise the Central Government thereon. This recommendation was in-principle approved by the Group of Ministers headed by the then Finance Minister in the meeting held on 8th December, 2009, NEC should be used as forum for discussion on matters of common interest to the Region and make recommendations. The Bill seeks amendment in the Act that will enable the Council to perform this function.

5. Department of Development of North-Eastern Region was formed in 2001 within Ministry of Home Affairs and subsequently upgraded to full-fledged Ministry in 2004. The Bill also seeks amendment in the Act to that effect.

6. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

PABAN SINGH GHATOWAR.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 3 of the Bill seeks to insert new section 3A after section 3 of the Act; sub-section (2) of which empowers the Central Government to determine the allowances or remuneration payable to the members nominated under clause (iii) of sub-section (1) of section 3.

The matters in respect of which the Central Government may determine are matters of procedure and administrative detail and it is not practicable to provide for them in the Bill itself. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.

II

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The National Institute of Design (NID), Ahmedabad was set up in the country in the year 1961 as a society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 and also under the Bombay Public Trusts Act, 1950, by the Government of India in the Ministry of Industry (now known as the Ministry of Commerce and Industry), as an autonomous institution. NID is an educational and training institution which conducts graduate and post-graduate programmes in the area of design education.

2. Realising the strategic importance of design for national and industrial competitiveness of both manufacturing and service industries, NID is already striving for excellence in the field of design education in the country. NID products, comprising its students and alumni, form the spearhead of the design initiative in India. Despite this, the potential of Indian design has not been fully exploited and there is an immense scope for future growth which may be achieved by establishing an institution of national importance for imparting design education with international benchmarking which can award degrees, function as an apex body to train teachers and trainers imparting design education in the country and provide the interface between academia and the industry. In order to achieve the desired objectives, it is expedient to enact a law declaring NID as an institution of national importance in the interest of public at large.

3. The National Institute of Design Bill, 2013, inter alia, provides for declaration of National Institute of design, Ahmedabad, as an institution of national importance and make it a body corporate to nurture and promote quality and excellence in design education; to conduct research and training in all disciplines related to design; to confer honorary degrees, diplomas, certificates, awards and other academic distinctions or titles in disciplines relating to design and to act as a nucleus for interaction between academia and industry by encouraging exchange of designers and other technical staff between the Institute and the industry and by undertaking sponsored and funded research as well as consultancy projects.

4. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.
